Spring 2018

Not Your Typical Classic Rock Band

The Hard Rock Fossils are a juggernaut of straight ahead classic 70's hard rock and roll. With the deftness of an alchemist, they craft their setlist as not to contain the same boring retreads that every other classic rock band seem to roll out. Shall they dare go beyond the commonplace, indeed they will. Tastefully finding nuggets from Bad Co, Trower, Nugent, Travers, Montrose, Rush, Tull, Cooper, Bowie, Zeppelin, Kiss and more. You are destined to leave their show with a smile on your face mentioning how good it was to hear the songs that you have not heard in a while. Like moths to a flame, you will be drawn into our sonic circus. The Hard Rock Fossils have been cranking out the jams since 2013 as a band after present members having many years in the music scene decided to seek each other out to gel into the rock n roll express they have today.

Starting the 2018 Rock Calendar

2018 starts with a February 2nd show at MT Barrels in Schaumburg, IL. Keep your eyes and ears open for the next HRF express stop near you!. Who are these guy's, see page 2!

Meet the Band

Jeff Meister: Guitar

When does collecting guitars turn into hoarding?, you won't get a straight answer out of Jeff. Each instrument offers a 6 string banquet of sound that he shares at each show. A blistering bouquet of classic 70's riff's emanate from his fingers delightfully into your ears, you will be impressed!

Gary Werner: Vocals

Having been raised by wolves until the age of 12 in the upper Adirondack Mountains, Gary's vocal ability is derived from quite an animal instinct. Luckily it suits him well for the on stage vocal onslaught that reigns supreme today!

Alan Shaults: Drums

Interesting fact; Al has an open account with his local window store due to the regular thrashing his house glass receives from his thunderous drum practice sessions. Remember those 70's concert T-shirts?, Al has closets full of them, so you can imagine from where he draws his inner classic rock beat... !

Morris Gray: Bass

Another interesting fact, the U.S.G.S. has Morris's home location 'flagged' so his seismic bass playing is not mistaken for earthquake activity. While playing a psychic fair some years back, Morris's bass playing 'channeled' the spirit of John Entwistle, John has yet to leave.... ,
