

Lady Venom Biography

After receiving a copy of MTV Music Generator in October of 2006 from her brother, Renegade Noise, Lady Venom was formed. Originally composing Electronic Music (Dark Ambient, House, Industrial, Techno), she began delving into other genres including Latin, World, Reggaeton, and Jazz. Lady Venom, born Anna Asbury in Washington, Pa currently resides in Louisville, Ky.

Beautifully Dead was formed in March of 2007 out of her intense love for horror movies and dark ambient. Beautifully Dead's music spans various genres including Ambient, Dark Ambient, Classical, Industrial and Glitch. Beautifully Dead's first official single was The Grigori. Her debut album, Dark City, was released May 13, 2007 followed by Subjugation, October 20, 2007.

After releasing The Unholy Trinity in September of 2007, the track 666 Miles (March On) was nominated for the 2008 IAIA Golden Kayak Award for Best Industrial/Beat Rock Song.

On Halloween of 2008, Lady Venom gave birth to VzT (Versucht zu Töten). VzT's first single, Get Me Started, was released in November of 2008.

Lady Venom is also a writer of song lyrics and published author of poetry and flash fiction under the pen name Ofira Sephiroth. Her first book of poetry, Unspeakable Truths, Volume 1: Damnation Begins, was published in December of 2007. Versified Darkness, Ofira's second book of poetry, was published in October of 2008.

Lady Venom is currently working on three new albums (Helium, Ice and The Ascension), two new albums for Beautifully Dead (The Exorcism Of Mary and The Forbidden Serenade), VzT's second release (Properties Of Frequency) and a new book of poetry.
