

Hey there! I'm Layton. I love music. I love how it moves me. I love how it works through me.

I've played most percussion, drums mainly, over the course of my lifetime. I'm a quarter-of-a-century old, and I've done this literally my entire life. I started out in an Iowa church, and I've progressed to the entertainment stage. I found myself in the studio eventually, recording single tracks and entire albums, all for independent artists.

The biggest benefit to my playing style is my pocket, I've learned from great drummers how to work a pocket; whether that's staying deep or adjusting to fit the song. I've one essential part of who I am, something that'll turn heads, I have great feel. I speak this out of humbled acceptance, not arrogance.

Give my work a browse, then give my email and jingle. God Bless you. I'm most-excited to make your acquaintance.
