

Biography

Michelle Bell, born as “Michelle Miller” in Chicago Illinois, and was raised in a religious home with having both parents and eight other siblings. Having faith in God was very important, and going to church on a regular basis was a no brainer.

Michelle discovered her singing ability at the age of 12 when she was asked to sing at her elementary school graduation. This is where the spark of singing began in her life. Moving forward, she later began singing and playing drums in her childhood church; it was here where she perfected her God giving talents and gifts and later became one of the praise and worship leaders.

While still working in the church as a youth leader, choir director and musician, God called Michelle into the ministry of preaching. Both her singing and preaching ministry has opened many doors for her, and eventually caught the attention of record label owner Michael Bell, CEO of Bell Time Records, and is now her record producer and husband.

Michelle is daily in the recording studio working on her first album project “Finally”. Her debut single release date is officially October 30, 2017, and the full album release will be announced at a later time.